

My One Page Profile

Imelda Fitzpatrick

What People Appreciate about me

- Caring
- Reliable and trustworthy
- Always look out for others
- Loves to laugh and see the funny side of things

What's important to me

- To spend time with my wife and son and daughter everyday but have a couple of days a month to myself
- To be able to exercise a couple of times a week either pilates, swimming, running or yoga.
- To keep learning and developing a better understanding of the world around me.
- Things going wrong unexpectedly can stress me out so I need to have a reliable car and plan ahead for things as much as possible.

How Best to Support Me

- It works best for me when people are upfront about things. I like to know if something is working or not.
- I have a tendency to try and 'fix' things for others. Just let me know that that's not always my job.
