

My One Page Profile

Maja Trninić

What People Appreciate about me

- Hardworking
- Dedicated
- Kind
- Great sense of humour
- Reliable & strong
- Love for books & psychology

What's important to me

- Staying connected with my family is important to me. My family is in Croatia but I text them every day or see them through video chat. I live with my partner Dragan. Spending time with him and my friends is important to me. My friends live in the same building as me so I can see them regularly. The rest of my friends are scattered around the world but I catch up with them through text or skype. I particularly like going for walks, joking around and watching a film with Dragan.
- I like having time in the day to be able to cook healthy meal. In the evenings I like to relax reading a book. I spend my time during the weekend going for hikes or walks in nature.
- It is really imperative for me to have close relationships with people – to be able to talk, laugh, cry, travel and relax together. I don't have a pet but I always stop on the street to pet a dog and play with them whenever I see one!

How Best to Support Me

- I prefer talking face to face or via zoom. I appreciate good interaction and open and honest conversations with people around me. Support me by communicating changes to as soon as possible, advising the reason for the change.
- Communicate with me in a straightforward manner, with structure and sufficient information. Allow me to ask questions when I am unsure of something and I like to provide help.
- Understand that I like to be clear on what is expected from me. Therefore, if we are working together I like to have a check list or to-do list. I like to understand and clarify any tasks.
- Most important thing I need to do my work is good supportive environment and strong communication with my colleagues.
