What's important to us

Supporting our stakeholders

Evolving and adapting to continue meeting the needs of our community

Starting the discussions to de-stigmatise disability

Always putting our young people's needs at the heart of what we do

For young people with ID to get the opportunity to speak for themselves and to have their voices heard – whether it's via videos, media work, or in-person

Creating more inclusive society where young people with ID can thrive to have a laugh together as a team on regular basis!

How we support our stakeholders

We developed our Personal Empowerment Programme (PEP) which gives practical skills to young people (YP) with ID

Taking PEP and delivering it via My Blossom Channel (MBC), allowing us to work with YP anywhere in the country and wherever suits them best

Creating an inclusive educational space for young people with ID

Creating a passionate and talented team

Expanding across multiple settings and working with families, key workers, and teachers to support young people

Taking PEP and transitioning to online engagement via MBC and using it to grow and improve our bespoke engagement with YP

Including young people with ID and their families in all areas of our service design and delivery

How to support us

We want to reach young people with ID whether they are in school, day service, residential setting, etc - talk to your service provider about working with us

Being a charity, we're always looking for funding to expand and develop at the pace we want to

Be open and honest about challenging topics you as a young person are going through
